200 Hour Teacher Training Program

In its 16th year, Glenmore Yoga's 200-Hour Program is designed for aspiring teachers and students of yoga who wish to deepen their yoga practice. Our mission is to provide each Yoga teacher with the foundation to teach therapeutically and skillfully with compassion. This program is designed to meet the standards of Yoga Alliance, allowing our graduates to nationally register as a 200-hour yoga teacher.

The program consists of 7 Weekend Training Modules and may be completed in seven months or up to 2 years. The modules are held each month from September through March. Each class includes experiential practice, lecture, discussion and demonstrations.

The 200-Hour program is made up of 180 hours in contact with the faculty and staff, 40+ hours of independent study including reading and completing study guides for each Training Module, a practicum including 15 class observations or teaching community classes at Glenmore, 3 class critiques and designing and teaching a yoga class to a group of your choice. Upon completion students will meet the requirements to register with Yoga Alliance at the 200-hour level, deepen their practice and understanding of yoga, have the ability and confidence to design and teach a balanced, cohesive class, increase knowledge of yoga philosophy, yoga anatomy, asana, breathing and meditation techniques, and have the knowledge to build asana from the foundation up and modify asana for contraindications.
